

NOTED MD. BEAUTY*SUCCUMBS IN BALTIMORE

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 22.—Mrs. William Smith Gittings Williams, noted society leader and one of Baltimore's most famed beauties, died at her apartment in the Hotel Belvedere here yesterday. Mrs. Williams, death followed a lingering illness. Mrs. Williams, prior to her marriage was Miss Belle Deford, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Deford. Her father amassed a great fortune in the wholesale hide and leather business. Mrs. Williams' husband died in 1918.

Mrs. Williams had a beautiful home at Lury, Va., where she spent part of her time. Mrs. Williams is survived by three daughters. She was a woman of unusual charm and her remarkable beauty won for her a high place in society in this section of the country.

New Jersey and Delaware were both known originally (like New York) as New Netherlands.

LITHUANIAN PATROLS*FIRE ON LEAGUE BAND

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Lithuanian patrols fired upon the League of Nations control commission on the "demarcation line" near the Polish-Lithuanian frontier, but no one was wounded, says a Warsaw dispatch to the Sunday Express.

The commission registered a protest at Kovno, asking guarantees that no more attacks would be made.

3 ADRIAT AT SEA FOUND*AFTER FIVE-DAY SEARCH

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—Five days and nights of ceaseless search of the sea by the coast guard cutter Ossipee was rewarded late yesterday by the finding of the barge Waccamaw, with three men aboard, who had been tossed about by the tides and gales since Monday night.

More than 1,500 miles of storm-tossed ocean was covered by the Ossipee before she came upon the helpless, drifting barge and her half-famished crew.

Six Strikes in Progress.

Six strikes and thirty-four controversies, which have not reached the strike stage, are before the Department of Labor for adjustment. It was announced yesterday. Three new cases were brought to the department's attention this week.

Insects destroyed farm crops worth $1,194,869,300 last year.

ADOPTS 5-DAY WEEK TO PREVENT CUTTING FORCE

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The adoption of a five-day week to prevent a reduction of the working force has been announced by the Erie railroad. Normally there are 48,000 persons on the Erie payroll, but the number is less now owing to a recent layoff.

The present move was caused by decreased revenues, the announcement said.
